

On your homework for tonight there is an error. The total number of shops does not equal 226, it is equal to 138. Please change that before you divide to find your decimal.