WHERE OUR LEGACY IS VALUING EVERY STUDENT

Greeting Aki families,

Happy Friday! I don't know about you, but I am excited for the forecast of sunny and 70 over the next week. Although, as I write this it is overcast and I hope the forecast pans out ...

We are basically down to 3.5 weeks to go until school is out. That is 18 school days for those of you who are counting. While it is crazy to me to think we are winding down to the end of the school year, I very much want to encourage everyone to stay the course and finish strong. There is still a lot of learning to do. Students have been completing their spring iReady diagnostics, and this is very helpful information for planning for next year. Teachers are getting into their final units of the year, which often result in synthesizing key learning from the trimester or year. Enjoy the beautiful weekend, and be ready to start next week with focus and commitment.

Progress Reports

- Progress reports for 3rd trimester were handed out this past Monday.
- If you have not seen your child's report, make sure to ask them for it or go into Skyward to take a look at it.
- The progress report can be a great point of reference for goal setting to finish the year, or recognition for a job well done.
- Either way, that student/parent/teacher check in is important to keep us all moving forward on the same page.

Panorama Family survey

- You should have received an email with a link to the end of year survey done through Panorama.
- The window for completing it ends May 27th, and I would encourage you to take a few minutes to share your feedback with us.
- Improving and increasing student and parent voice is an important goal for me, so your feedback from this year is something I am very interested to see.
- Thanks for taking a few minutes to do the survey
